■ Videogames as a Service: A Crash Course

Videogames are a fundamental component of the modern media appetite, but starting a successful gaming service at a public library can be a challenge. This program will cover the basics of holding gaming events at your library, allowing you to make smart, informed choices about game hardware and software and deliver a service that attracts and appeals to gamers — especially teens — like never before.

Eli Neiburger, Ann Arbor District Library and Erin Helmrich, Ann Arbor District Library

Children's Services Section

■ When Communities Read

The first half of the program will explore the civic benefits of reading, the long lasting impacts that reading has on residents of a community, the importance of participating in local reading groups and why public libraries support reading in a community. The second part of the program focuses on practical, unique and innovative ways to enhance and expand Readers Advisory Services in your library.

Dr. David Carr, School of Information and Library Science, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and author of The Promise of Cultural Institutions and A Place Not A Place and Barry Trott, Williamsburg (VA) Regional Library, author of Partnering With Purpose: A Guide to Strategic Partnership Development for Libraries and Other Organizations

■ Exploring Internet-Enhanced Ready Reference

Effective use of quick-answer tools on the Internet can provide added research power to those staffing a library's reference desk, whether it's physical or virtual. Ready reference for both basic, and not so basic, inquiries is an essential component of information provision. This workshop will focus not only on identification of key and lesser-known Internet reference sources, but on the comparison and evaluation of these resources. You will leave not only with some new techniques and resources, but also a greater ability to quickly and easily access the right answers from the best sources.

Dr. Randolph Hock, Founder, Online Strategies, Lesley University (Cambridge, MA) and author of Yahoo! to the Max: An Extreme Searcher Guide, The Extreme Searcher's Internet Handbook: A Guide for the Serious Searcher and The Extreme Searcher's Guide to Web Search Engines: A Handbook for the Serious Searcher

■ When the Knock Comes

This program will discuss policies, procedures and staff training to deal with requests for private or confidential information held by Libraries. Emphasis will be placed on methods to successfully interact with law enforcement personnel. Sections of the program include:

- An introduction to library privacy rights and law
- Development of policies and procedures
- Training the staff to respond to requests for private and confidential data
- Interacting with law enforcement personnel

Lynn Miller, Esq., Miller and Miller; Deborah Caldwell Stone, Deputy Director, American Library Association Office of Intellectual Freedom, John Hurley, Woodbridge Public Library

Public Policy Committee and Intellectual Freedom Subcommittee

5:00 – 7:00pm

■ Dine Around

Don't miss this great way to network-whether you're here on your own or with others. Dine-Around NJLA is designed to give you a unique opportunity to savor the cuisines of one of the area's favorite restaurants while interacting with other conference attendees. Each dinner party will be composed of 8 – 10 other conference attendees. The restaurants have been chosen to give you a range of cuisines and prices and are all within walking distance of Ocean Place Resort. All Dine-Around guests order from the menu at each restaurant. You will be responsible for all food and beverage charges, including tax and gratuities. Each diner will receive a separate check, but the restaurant will divide each table's total charge evenly among all the diners, regardless of individual orders. At Windmill, Stewart and Pizza/Casual Italian diners will be able to place their own order and pay on-their-own.

The following is a tentative list of options, including approximate cost for dinner:

- Windmill ($10 – 12)
- Pizza/Casual Italian ($10 – 15)
- Stewart's Root Beer ($10 – 12)
- It's Greek to Me ($14 – 18)
- McLoone's Pier House ($35 – 40)
- Rooney's Ocean Crab House ($35 – 40)
- Sawa Hibachi Steakhouse & Sushi Bar ($20 – 40)

We will be leaving from the lobby of the Ocean Place Resort at 5pm.

To register, please send an e-mail to: Allan Kleiman at: amkleiman@aol.com. Please indicate which group you would like to participate in. Check <http://www.njla.org/conference/2007/> for the latest information
