“The North Hunterdon/Voorhees Intellectual Freedom Fighters have been advocating for students' right to read in response to multiple book challenges,” said Beth Thomas of NJASL. “All of the books that have been challenged reflect the LGBTQIA+ experience. In speaking out about these challenges, the NHVIFF have not only fought for the freedom to read, they have fought for NHV's LGBTQIA+ students.”

The American Library Association (ALA) invites library workers to apply for the Libraries Transform Communities Engagement Grant (LTCEG), an annual award supporting innovative and meaningful community engagement efforts in libraries.

View the full award guidelines and apply online at www.ala.org/LTCEG.
